He deserves it

We who know him have known all along that it was no more than he deserves.

But what we like about it is that he gives the credit to those people with whom he works.

On Tuesday of this week Byron Dyer, Bulloch county's county agent, received the highest recognition that can be given to a U. S. citizen who works in agriculture—"The Superior Service Award" for outstanding work in the agricultural field. This is not an annual award, but comes only when a citizen in the nation attains such distinction in the agricultural field to merit it.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson presented Mr. Dyer the award in a special ceremony Tuesday morning at the Sylvan Theatre in Washington, D. C. He was presented to the Secretary by Mr. Ferguson, national director of the Agriculture Extension Service. He was escorted to Washington by Charles A. Sheffield, field representative for the Extension Service in the South from Texas to Virginia.

In a statement for release yesterday morning by Mike McDougald, editor of WSB radio farm news, Mr. Dyer said, "I live in the best county in the state and work with the best farmers in the nation. It is to them that I must give credit for any honor that comes to me. Actually I feel as though the honor goes to them and that I am only their representative."

Mr. Dyer came to Bulloch county in 1932 following his last year in graduate work at the University of Georgia. Since that date he has distinguished himself by his hard work, his keen interest and continuing seeking after knowledge of what makes the land produce, his love for the farm youth, his present and future, and his participation in community affairs.

During his 24 years here he has seen Bulloch county grow from just one of Georgia's 159 counties in agriculture to its present status as one of the great counties of the state and nation. During his time here he has seen Bulloch county produce seven "Master Farmers," numerous "prize-winning" farmers who excel in production and land and soil management. He has seen hundreds of "his" 4-H club boys and girls win high honors in state and national projects.

We like the modest manner in which our county agent accepts this newest and most high honor. We like his sincerity in sharing it with those who he says helped him attain it.

And for him we toss our newest hat high into the air for his distinguished honor and the acclaim he brings to Statesboro, Bulloch county and Georgia.

They begin fighting

"They came out fighting" is a phrase you hear when two boxers meet in a boxing ring.

But its a phrase which can be used to describe the opening round in the First District congressional race between Prince Preston and Elliott Hagan, candidates for the congressional seat now held by Mr. Preston.

Congressman Preston struck the first "blow" with his statement "I know Mr. Elliott Hagan quite well and pleasantly. I had him appointed to an $11,000 a year job as director of the Office of Price Stabilization in Savannah. It is interesting to note that he now seeks to succeed me. Of course, I admit that I haven't done anything for him lately."

Candidate Hagan struck back with: "I accepted the Office of Price Stabilization appointment only after repeated requests from Preston who told me it was my patriotic duty."

"I didn't ask for the job, I didn't want the job, and it was only after several calls and conferences that I accepted."

"The salary was only $8,800. If an $11,000 salary was paid then I know nothing about it."

"It was also interesting to note that while I was trying to keep merchants in more than 50 south Georgia counties happy with a maze of OPS regulations, Preston had neglected his congressional duties in Washington to engage in the real estate business in Savannah at a $150,000 profit to himself and two associates."

"It's true he hasn't done anything for me or the First Congressional District lately. But he has done all right for himself."

"Like all good Americans I was shocked that a Georgia congressman became involved in a congressional investigation that attracted nationwide attention."

"In my new job I am still director of OPS—Oust Preston (to) Statesboro, and let the proud name of the First District of Georgia be restored to its rightful place in our fine state."

To us the statements are unworthy of Mr. Preston and Mr. Hagan. If it is a preview of the plane upon which the campaign is to be pitched then it indicates that both will be doing the district a disservice.

If Mr. Elliott did a good job as director of the OPS then Mr. Preston is to be commended for his selection, content in the knowledge that he was assigning to the businessman of the OPS district one who would help them. The question of salary is a matter of record and certainly the difference can be reconciled.

If Mr. Hagan is intent upon doing the district a service he errs in referring to Mr. Preston's "real estate business," which has already been completely aired and can do his campaign no real good, since people in the district arrived at their personal conclusions long ago. And Mr. Hagan ignores the recorded fact that Mr. Preston has done right well for the First District and has served with distinction, having attained positions of controlling importance, not only to the district but to the state and nation as well.

We admit to a political idealism which is characteristic of so many who take no active part in politics, but we also admit to a practical politics which recognizes that politicians, in order to win election to positions in which they can serve for the good of their people, must do things which we may consider with disapproval and even think wrong.

With the heat of the opening round now cooling off we hope Mr. Preston and Mr. Hagan will settle down and tell the district what they hope to accomplish for the district and not what they have done to or for each other.

MORE ON THE WEATHER—

Last week we had quite a bit to say about the weather.

This week we have more to say. But this is sort of interesting to those who are interested in the wiles of the elements which produce our weather.

If no rain fell in Bulloch county between June 4 and June 9, it will be the sixth year since 1908 (except 1948, 1949, and 1950 when our rain records were lost) that it has not rained at some time during the first week in June.

W. L. Crumley, our weather authority, says, "I have heard it said that it always rains the first week in June." And the record bears him out.

It has rained sometime during the first week in June every year since 1908 except 1931, when it rained on June 14; 1943, and 1944, when it waited until June 10 each year; in 1945 when it did not rain in June until June 13, and in 1947 when it waited until June 11 to rain. The records for 1948, 1949, and 1950 are not available.

Mr. Crumley allows as how it does not always work out that "one extreme always follows another extreme." He also says that it rains during all phases of the moon and that it is also dry during all phases of the moon.

All of which proves that not much can be done about the weather, despite continuing attempts to "modify" it. We just have to learn to live with it.

MR. RALPH A. PURCELL, general manager of the Rockwell Statesboro Corporation, has been released from the Bulloch County Hospital, following a recovery.

There will be no formal program. It's just a get-together for the Junior Rotarians and Rotarians. There'll be prizes and surprises.

Paul wrote to Timothy about the "goodly heritage." The Christian's good self heritage is the heritage of perspective. Someone has well expressed the Christian's goodly estate: "He has grace in possession and glory in reserve."

The Christian is a sojourner. He is a traveler. He is enjoying the scene of his life in England because here after the first child there is an allowance of $72.80 each year per child. The government also subsidizes or guarantees a certain price for cattle, eggs, sheep, pigs and wool. This all sounds good until you consider the high rate of taxes the farmer pays. Of course, much of this is due to the fact that medicine and physician services are socialized.

Many of the old castles and mansions of England have had to be torn down or turped into schools, hospitals, etc. because of the high rate of taxes. All these beautiful structures look like castles to me, and it is not uncommon to see them vacated.

Speaking of castles and royalty, I have met a few "titled" people since I have been here. This, of course, makes me know I am in England. Among those I have met the Duke of Norfolk. He has charge of all the arrangements for the coronation and takes quite an interest in the Young Farmer's organization.

Back home it seemed difficult to understand why a country should have a "Royal Family." In talking with the people here, I find they have the deepest respect and admiration for their queen. To them this family represents loyalty and sort of set the example of ideals. After each movie or dance "God Save the Queen" is always played, while everyone stands at attention. Queen Elizabeth is flashed on the screen, with all radiance and serenity of responsibility. As she speaks the Royal Army or is shown being crowned it really is effective.

Meditation for This Week

By THE REV. J. W. GROOMS

THE CHRISTIAN'S GOODLY HERITAGE

TEXT: "The Lord is the portion of his people—thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage." Ps. 16:5.

This Psalm is the expression of a devout believer's faith in God and satisfaction with his lot. It begins with prayer, implies trouble, but bounds with holy confidence. It closes with songs of assurance as to present and ultimate assurance and blessedness. It is plainly messianic as quoted by Peter. "For David speaketh concerning Him."

I foresaw the Lord always before my face, for He is on my right hand, that I should not be moved; therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad, and my flesh shall rest in hope. Acts 2:26-28. Yet it is such an expression of faith and confidence as suited the feelings of David and is the blessed privilege of every true Christian to utter.

The land of Canaan, as we know, was divided by lot, and was thus apportioned to the various tribes of Israel. As you note in the text, the land was divided by "lot" but what David was thinking about here more than anything else was God's great goodness to him.

THINK of the Christian's good heritage, first in temporal blessings. "Godliness is profitable." It blesses us now, it is the promise of the "life that is to come." Godliness blesses people in every state of life.

If we look upon the things we have rather upon the thing that we do not have we can see very much that calls for gratitude.

Now think of the Christian's goodly heritage in spiritual blessings. What a heritage we have in God's word. The Psalmist greatly rejoiced in the possession of God's Holy Word.

He called it a "lamp unto his path" and a light unto his path.

Paul wrote to Timothy about the "goodly heritage." The Christian's good self heritage is the heritage of perspective. Someone has well expressed the Christian's goodly estate: "He has grace in possession and glory in reserve."

It Seems to Me...

By MAX LOCKWOOD

The 1956 Democratic national convention should be the most interesting one ever held in the history of the Democratic party. The Democratic party as we knew it in the South has ceased to exist and I seriously doubt if it will ever again have the power to elect a Democratic president.

This is a statement which will not set too well with the old line Democrats but most of them are beginning to realize that the Democratic party in the South is no longer the "labor" party, dominated by the labor bosses and the left-wing liberals of the north and middle west, and what these self-styled so-called Democrats have failed to accomplish by the ballot they have accomplished by the sword of the Democratic convention.

Any student of political government can see if he clearly looks at the situation that the Democratic party in the South will be a hand picked goat in sheep's clothing and will carry the stamp of approval of Mr. Walter Rucker of the AF of L and the CIO.

BY SPENDING MILLIONS of dollars in local elections these forces of evil have succeeded in controlling representatives in government to the extent that today, while they cannot pass legislation of their choosing, they can defeat any legislation which is not to their liking.

In an attempt to regain the loss of the Negro vote in the heavily populated areas of the nation these liberal leaders in the party will do everything, short of mass murder, to drive the South from the Democratic convention. Whether they will succeed will depend largely upon how well organized Southern Democrats are in their own states.

The situation now looks as if we face total defeat. The leaders of the Southern states have as yet failed to realize that the southern voter has about as much of this pushing around as he can stomach and there will be many of them who are going to be looking for jobs following the next elections in their home states.

PEOPLE are going to keep this in mind when they go to the polls in 1960.

English government pays well for having children; but tax rate high

By HAZEL CREASY

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fourth of a series of articles written by Miss Hazel Creasy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Creasy Sr. of Nevils, which will cover her trip as an International Farm Youth Exchange delegate to England and Wales. She was one of the county's leading 4-H Club members, having held six offices in her local club and served as president and secretary of the county 4-H Club council. She was twice state champion in frozen foods and was an alternate national winner in the project one year. She received the highest honor that can come to a 4-H girl in Georgia, that of Master 4-H member.

My father should have reared his 12 children in England because here after the first child there is an allowance of $72.80 each year per child. The government also subsidizes or guarantees a certain price for cattle, eggs, sheep, pigs and wool. This all sounds good until you consider the high rate of taxes the farmer pays.
